

Junior economist workshop on migration research

The Ifo Center of Excellence for Migration and Integration Research (CEMIR) is organizing a junior economist workshop on migration research to be held on 18 & 19 October 2013 at the Ifo Institute in Munich, Germany. The keynote lecture is given by Christian Dustmann, UCL London.

Interested Ph.D. students, post docs and assistant professors in economics with a firm interest in the field of migration are invited to submit a research paper they would like to present (plus a CV) to bach@ifo.de by 1 September 2013. The program committee consists of Gabriel Felbermayer, Panu Poutvaara, Helmut Rainer and Ludger Woessmann.

There are no participation fees and travel expenses are covered.

For further information on this workshop, please contact Michele Battisti (battisti@ifo.de).

Please feel free to forward this email to anyone who may be interested or to announce the workshop at your faculty.
