International Workshop on

"Immigration: Economics and Politics"

27-29 October 2011, Fondazione Luigi Einaudi, Turin, Italy

Organised by:

Giovanni Facchini (Erasmus University Rotterdam, University of Milan and CEPR)
Timothy Hatton (Australian National University, University of Essex and CEPR)

This workshop is organised as part of the activities of the Politics, Economics and Global Governance: The European Dimensions (PEGGED) EU FP VII project and with the cooperation of the TEmporary Migration, integration and the role of POlicies (TEMPO) Norface project. The goal of the workshop is to bring together economists and political scientists working on different aspects of the complex processes through which migration policies come into place.

We invite the submission of papers on the following topics:

- Analysis of individual attitudes towards immigration
- Models of the distributional effects of international migration
- Analysis of the migration policy formation process
- Undocumented immigration
- Analysis of policies towards refugees and asylum seekers

Please submit full papers only. The conference will cover travel and lodging costs for presenters of accepted manuscripts in accordance with the new CEPR Travel Guidelines (www.cepr.org/meets/WKCN/misc/trp.pdf).

To respond, please visit www.cepr.org/YourProfile/Meetings. The deadline for replies is 18:00 GMT on 30 June 2011.
